BERLIN, March 20.—Memel, the small slice of "unredeemed Germany" on the Baltic coast, will pass peacefully under the German Swastika next Saturday, it was generally taken for granted in German quarters today.

Lithuania's Foreign Minister Jozas Urbys, discussed the Memel question with Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop of Germany today and, it was understood, the visitor said no difficulties would be presented when demands for separation are made in the Memel diet Saturday.

At the diet meeting, according to indications, Dr. Ernst Neumann, Nazi leader in Memel, will openly address demands for independence to Kovno, the capital.

Lithuania itself, however, will remain untouched, and the Polish corridor to Danzig also will be left alone for the time being, Berlin circles stated.

Dr. Neumann will demand that Memel be allowed to become a free city, similar to Danzig, if it is not directly annexed to the Reich in accordance with the demonstrations of last night. Crowds thronged the streets of Memel crying "back into the Reich."

Memel was separated from Germany after the World War, and made a part of Lithuania, but was granted autonomy. Recently the Nazis came into power there in an overwhelming election victory.

German quarters said a token occupation of Memel by the German army might be necessary, but otherwise "not much smoke is expected."

Labor Peace Parley
In High ConfusionBy JACK VINCENT

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Two new attacks by the A. F. of L. on the C. I. O. today plunged the presidentially-mandated labor peace conference into high confusion.

They also left a strange spectacle for President Roosevelt to study. The A. F. of L. and C. I. O. were fighting each other harder than ever and still talking peace across a conference table.

Many labor observers and some quarters in the ranks of labor itself, now believed that only a change in labor leadership or further intervention by the president or his administration can save the conference from collapse.

The C. I. O. it was learned would espouse a change in labor leadership. John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O. in offering one peace proposal now rejected, suggested retirement on a pension for life of William Green, A. F. of L. president. Previously he offered to resign as C. I. O. chief, if, and only if, Green would resign as head of the federation too. He made this (Continued On Page Two)

PARIS, March 20.—Rushing his plans to convert France into an "immense workshop" and strengthen her frontiers against the power of the expanding German Reich, Premier Edouard Daladier today prepared a series of industrial decree measures for submission to the council of ministers.

In keeping with the premier's determination to man the Maginot line at war-time strength, according to reports, Daladier already has sent technicians from several automobile factories to the famous line of forts on France's eastern frontiers.

Given Authority
Daladier was given plenary authority to rule, in all matters concerning France's safety, by executive decree as "dictator of defense" until Nov. 30. The senate yesterday confirmed the chamber of deputies' previous action by a vote of 286 to 17.

Overtures by France for a common proclamation of solidarity against Germany by the Democracies, also Russia, found a lukewarm reception in the United States, according to information here. French official circles evidently were disappointed by the senate department's reported reaction.

France in the meantime is watching closely the possibility of the American congress's amending the neutrality law.

Council was asked by a committee headed by Louis G. Genkiner to give consideration to an endorsement and council followed by passing the resolution.

Under the terms of legislation passed years ago the city has agreed to provide proper terminal facilities here.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to U. S. Senator Davis and Congressman Graham.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Although congress has been in session nearly three months, major bills on the legislative program appear today to have become stalled in committees with a strong possibility that many of them may not be acted upon before adjournment.

The lone exception to date has been President Roosevelt's rearmament program which has had the right-of-way since it was outlined to congress two months ago.

Encounter Delays

Meanwhile, the following legislation has encountered stumbling blocks and not infrequent delays:

1. Measures to expand and overhaul the social security act.
2. Proposals that a new farm program be enacted, or that the present one be drastically revised.
3. Demands, particularly by the American Federation of Labor, for changes in the labor act.

Developments in the European crisis today were: BERLIN—Memel will pass into Nazi hands Saturday, when demands for separation will be presented in the Memel Diet, it was understood after Foreign Ministers Urbys of Lithuania and Joachim Von Ribbentrop talked in Berlin. Germany recalled her ambassador from Paris.

LONDON—Britain's cabinet held a second emergency meeting, discussing possible unity with France and Russia in a "stop Hitler" movement, while the significant possibility developed that Britain might abandon her traditional refusal to support any country north or west of Turkey.

PARIS—Premier Daladier, named by parliament as "defense dictator," called a council of ministers to approve decrees strengthening France's frontiers and accelerating the munitions industry.

MOSCOW—Recall of the German ambassador was expected after Russia partly denounced the Czech coup as "arbitrary, violent, and aggressive."

Bucharest—A pacifying development occurred when Rumania agreed to sign a new trade treaty with Germany tomorrow, giving the Reich oil and commercial concessions.

BUCHAREST, March 20.—Oil, literally, was spread on Europe's troubled waters today when Rumania agreed to sign a trade pact with Germany giving the Reich development concessions in this country's petroleum fields.

The new commercial agreement is to be signed tomorrow. Rumanian sources denied the information in London and Paris that strong German pressure was brought to bear to produce the agreement. Nothing in the nature of an ultimatum was delivered by Dr. Helmuth Wolfarth, special German trade emissary who negotiated the treaty, it was asserted.

Further extension of mutual exports is provided for in the treaty, according to preliminary information. Germany will be allowed to (Continued On Page Two)

Tentative agreement was reached today between the county commissioners of Lawrence county and officials of Ellwood City for taking over and repairing of the bridge crossing the Connoqueessing creek in the fifth ward of Ellwood City.

The bridge was originally constructed by the Connoqueessing Bridge company many years ago and operated as a toll bridge. Residents of the district served by the bridge appealed for assistance in having the bridge remain in service.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Roosevelt today nominated William O. Douglas, 40-year-old chairman of the securities and exchange commission, to be an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States.

Douglas was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Associate Justice Louis D. Brandeis. Youngest of President Roosevelt's four appointees to the high court, Douglas was urged upon the president by a powerful group of new dealers and progressive Republicans.

Resident Of Connecticut
A native of the state of Washington, Douglas was a resident of Connecticut before he came to Washington as an official of the exchange commission in 1934. In 1936 he was named a member of the commission.

Douglas was professor of law at Yale University until he obtained a leave of absence to join the new deal.

Secretary Stephen T. Early made the announcement of Douglas's nomination at the White House. Reporters, who had anticipated a supreme court appointment, were called into Early's office and handed a mimeographed list of nominations—upon which no court name appeared.

Brest's Companion Seeks Freedom

Second Appeal Filed At Prison

Logan Follows Course

BOTH IMPRISONED
FOR VOLANT ROBBERY

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Harry James Logan, Pennsylvania kidnaper and bank robber who is now serving a life term in Alcatraz prison, is attempting to get off the "rock" in the same manner Harold M. Brest, his companion-in-crime, regained his freedom.

Brest, former Sharon, Pa. resident, waged a fight in federal court here and obtained a writ of habeas corpus when it was shown that records did not contain any mention of his being offered the advice of counsel at the time of his conviction in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Like Brest, Logan filed a petition in San Francisco federal district court for a writ of habeas corpus, claiming he was not represented by defense counsel at the time of his arrest and sentence, and had not been advised of his constitutional right to counsel.

The two men were convicted of robbing the Volant, Pa., bank, and of kidnapping D. Lester Santee, Sharon, Pa., salesman.

Hearing To Be Set
Logan's petition was assigned to the federal district court of Judge A. F. St. Sure and hearing was expected to be set on next week's calendar.

Federal Judge Harold Louderbeck, who granted the writ to Brest March 10, has indicated he will sign the formal order for Brest's release tomorrow.

U. S. Deputy Attorney Al Zirlo said he would travel today to Sacramento, where Judge Louderbeck is hearing federal cases in that district. Zirlo said he would ask Judge Louderbeck to sign an order remaining Brest to custody of Pennsylvania authorities for re-trial on the kidnapping and bank robbery charges.

Brest's attorneys said they would protest return of the prisoner to Pennsylvania for retrial on the grounds he was once in jeopardy. In Pittsburgh, United States Attorney Charles P. Uhl again declared that neither Brest nor Logan requested counsel at the time of their arrest. After Brest won his fight for the habeas corpus writ, Uhl obtained a bench warrant for his re-arrest and air-mailed it to local authorities.

Formerly Lived Here
Mr. Patterson was a resident here until 12 years ago, when he was transferred to Pittsburgh, and formerly resided on Richelleu avenue. He was an elder of the Central Presbyterian church while here, and since moving to Pittsburgh had been active in the work of the Brighton Road Presbyterian church. He was superintendent of the Sabbath school there, and was also an elder of the church. He had a wealth of friends in Pittsburgh and New Castle and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him.

He was born September 13, 1879, in North Beaver township, the son of William F. and Letitia Jane Kelso Patterson.

His first wife, Grace Ellen Leslie, died October 21, 1920. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Amy Patterson; eight children, Clifford O. Patterson of New Castle, Mrs. J. A. To Lengthen Working Days
Urgency of Daladier's decrees, by which the premier is expected to lengthen the working days of all persons employed in munitions plants or other industries essential to France's defense, was shown today in the appearance of the official journal, which rarely is issued on a Monday.

Publication of the bill giving plenary powers to the broad-shouldered premier paves the way for issuance of his decrees tomorrow. Daladier is expected to begin with military measures, as Saturday he promised strong military preparations to cope with the central European peril.

In advance of the cabinet meeting, it was announced that half the conscription class due for demobilization from the army in April will remain in service. "We need 100,000 more men," a government spokesman said.

Takes Firm Attitude
Daladier took a firm attitude when he went before the senate and won his overwhelming victory. He said: "Every chief of the French government has made an effort to collaborate with Germany. I did the same, and I do not regret it today. 'Munich has been swept away. Collaboration with Germany has been destroyed."

"But because we made an effort, we are in a position to day that the time has come when concessions are past."

To the cheers of the senate, just as the deputies cheered him Saturday, Daladier concluded: "We are now in a trench and we are not going to get out of it."

Meyer Lewis, Green stated will supervise organization drives of the federation in Pacific coast and Rocky Mountain states. But it was evident that he was determined not to budge an inch in his plan to carry through, with the cooperation of Premier Mussolini, his program to dominate central Europe.

May Summon Reichstag
Unconfirmed rumors said the Reichstag might be summoned tomorrow, but there were no other indications as to when the Fuehrer will reply to the attack by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Britain and other accusations.

The German press meanwhile opened new blasts against "foreign agitation." It was indicated that the campaign in the next few days will involve bitter onslaughts on England, and thus Great Britain will replace the United States for the time being as the chief Nazi target.

Britain's alleged attempt to interfere with conclusion of the German-Rumanian trade treaty, aroused almost as much fury in Germany as the speeches of Chamberlain and Alfred Dief-Cooper.

May Cancel Treaty
Qualified German quarters continue to insist that the fate of the Anglo-German naval pact, under which Germany agreed to hold her naval tonnage to 35 per cent of Britain's, now lies with England. Germany feels that the next step by England against Germany will bring about German cancellation of the treaty, which would be followed by redoubled German energy devoted to the building of submarines "to give England something to worry about."

Possibly showing that Chancellor Hitler is through with military moves for the present, it was said that Field Marshal Hermann Goering may resume his vacation in Italy tomorrow. Goering was called back from Italy at the beginning of the Czechoslovak crisis.

One hundred thousand soldiers, it was estimated, have been sent to the Rumanian border.

(The London Daily Express in a Bucharest dispatch said 200,000 Rumanian troops were stationed in blockhouses and dugouts along the Rumanian frontier, and heavy artillery, anti-tank, and anti-aircraft guns were enplaced along the Carpatho-Ukrainian border.)

If the borough purchases the bridge and ordains the right-of-way over it as a highway or street, I believe we should spend sufficient money to put the bridge in shape for light traffic."

The other two commissioners agreed with this position, and Solicitor McElwee said it could be done if the borough ordained the right-of-way after purchase.

mature publication, and then said: "It's William O. Douglas of Connecticut."

Four Roosevelt Judges
The naming of Douglas to the supreme court gives the new deal four justices of President Roosevelt's own choice. Others he has named are Associate Justices Hugo L. Black, Stanley Reed and Felix Frankfurter.

Considerable discussion of Douglas' residence followed the report that Douglas would be named. He is a native of the state of Washington and was educated there but has been a resident of Connecticut.

Douglas was given an official residence in Connecticut when the president chose him as chairman of the securities and exchange commission. At that time, he was a professor at Yale University. Although he has lived here under the new deal, the president again named him as a citizen of Connecticut.

Thus, on paper at least the president again selected an associate justice from the east. Douglas, however, had the support of western progressives and new dealers. Senators Borah (R) Idaho, and Norris (R) Nebraska, were particular boosters for the youthful SEC head.

the new farm plans. Members say, however, that the present program will be tried another year, so far as they are concerned.

The senate committee on education and labor has announced that it will start hearings on the labor act, while the house labor committee has already held one secret hearing on proposals to amend the wage-hour law. Many members of the two committees feel though, that no substantial alterations will be made on either act.

A senate-house deadlock appears to have developed on the railroad program over methods to be pursued. Chairman Lea of the house interstate commerce committee has predicted that the house will eventually act on some kind of a program, but he is doubtful if its senate passage is assured.

A Help To Make A Better New Castle

Last week we mentioned that we would write a few Ads the following weeks, giving our idea of what would help New Castle.

New Castle has a number of wholesale grocers who are now in business and at least making a living. Suppose our citizens would demand that our retail grocery stores purchase their goods through our established wholesale grocers, (even if they didn't have everything they needed, if they had the business, they would soon have them).

We would just hate to estimate how many clerks, bookkeepers, drivers and new trucks that these wholesale grocers would have to put to work, and this money would be spent in New Castle.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers Ph. D.

CHILD'S OWN ROOM
A great many young mothers fret because they cannot have a separate playroom for the child from one to five. Some women choose rather to have no children unless a number of impractical child experts have been responsible for this foolish notion.

If these experts only were to observe the tot in the average home, he would discover that the little tyke will not, on his own accord, stay long at a time alone in a playroom anyway. Even when the child from two to four or five has playmates, he and they prefer to spend most of their time, while indoors, where the other members of the family are. The separate playroom, so far as the toddler's preferences go, is impractical, except as a place to store his playthings not immediately in use. He wants to wander about the house with his mother; he wants to see what she is doing, now and then imitating her.

Meaning of "No"

Fortunate is the tot and his mother if he, as soon as he can toddle, has learned the meaning of NO, has learned there are a certain few things he must not do or have, but hundreds of others he may do unhindered. He is fortunate if his mother never wearies answering his questions and explaining things to him, and takes the time and patience to show him how to be careful with new things and in new situations. The tot, of course, of course, has a special room or corner in a room, for boxes or shelves in which to keep his playthings.

The child over five or six may profit from a separate playroom, even if it must serve both as playroom and bedroom. He can continue at building and constructing things over periods of days with more assurance that his things won't be disturbed.

It's the boy over eight or ten who needs a room of his own, and still more especially the teen-age boy and girl.

Separate Beds
For general health and safe sex habits, children of the same sex or different sex should have separate beds, even if only a very inexpensive cot.

When two young children must share the same bedroom, they may keep each other awake late or waken each other in the morning. In case they cannot be disciplined effectively, let one go to sleep in an adult room and carried back to the children's room as the adult retires. Even with some crowding, if there is ample fresh air, the children, through wise management of the parents, may gain something in character through good adaptation. Yet, one cannot understand how best mental health, personality and character can develop with a family crowded into a few rooms as all too often is the case. Some of us little realize the handicaps some children and their parents must endure from congested housing.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE OLD WAY

Jereboam, son of Nebah, was said in the Bible to have made the children of Israel to sin. Perhaps our present President will be distinguished in future history very much as was Jereboam.

Just observe the attitude of American boys and young men to today's problems of life. A great many of them are not looking for easy berth; they are only looking for an easy berth. They are very different from their grandfathers or even their fathers. Here is the history of one who might be called a "granchild" of the present generation. Just observe the difference between the story of his life and what probably will be the stories of the lives of a horde of boys and young men of today.

At the age of ten he chopped one hundred cords of wood in fifty days, at fifty cents a cord, that he might be able to attend school. From twelve to sixteen he worked, first, as a carpenter, later as a mule-driver, that he might enter Hiram Institute, where he earned his keep by working as bellringer and sweeper.

At twenty-one, he resumed a teaching career, which had been interrupted by his college course, to become a professor, and later a school principal. At twenty-nine he became a State Senator—the youngest member; at thirty a Colonel in the Civil War; at thirty-one a Brigadier-General; at thirty-two a member of the National House of Representatives—the youngest of all; at forty-nine United States Senator; and finally, at fifty, President of the United States.

Such was the career of James A. Garfield, whose motto was: "Accomplish, or never attempt."

MARCH

March is the month uncertain.
Half winter and half spring.
Rough with a gale, then mild and frail,
Blue skies, with birds a-wing.March is the month that wavers
Twixt two great loves to choose.
As if 'twere loath to cling to both
And neither one refuse.March is the month coyest
Who flirts as men go by.
With winter she quite bold will be
At springtime, wink an eye.March is an old man's darling,
She wears grey winter's ring.
But all the while intends to smile
And east her charms on spring.

What's What At A Glance

Drys Beginning To Show Gains
Would Make Example Of District
Enforcement Head Tells Of ErrorBy CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

Senator Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota and Representative U. S. Guyer of Kansas have a bill apiece in Congress seeking to re-prohibit the District of Columbia. This is the same old camel, trying again to get his snout under the tent flap. The camel won't succeed this time, but he's a persistent animal. The D. C. is a small area, nevertheless it's the main entrance to the national big top. With the critter's nose once entrenched in Washington, the whole critter is in a fair way to shoulder himself hump and all into the whole country. It happened thus in war days. There were plenty of dry states even then—more than at present. However, the dry idea was only local—statewide, or less so—until the District was offered as a good or awful example (depending on how one looks at the matter) of federal prohibition.

No individual wet state previously had considered itself bound previously to pay any attention to the dry rule in Kansas, for instance. The Sunflower commonwealth, in fact, was regarded as a freak area, not to be taken too seriously.

But the District of Columbia, traditionally, has been looked at as the entire republic's proving ground for all sorts of experiments in legislation, regulation and taxation. This reputation has made it a weird place to live in. Nevertheless, with no voice of their own in their domestic affairs, Washingtonians have had to submit to it. They do yet.

Washingtonian prohibition has been decreed, prohibitionists immediately asserted that it was working perfectly. It wasn't true, I know, having lived under it. But I've no doubt that prohibitionists believed it, not wanting a drink anyway.

Yet the American majority, being then prohibitionist, chose to gulp the whole story down, bodily, and we got wholesale prohibition mainly on the strength of Washington's trial of it.

As we know, a literal satumalia of racketeering followed.

Joseph B. Keenan, under President Roosevelt, was appointed assistant attorney general, in the justice department, especially to fight the racketeers. Assuredly he did fight them and probably understood them better than any prosecutor living.

I asked him then, (he's recently retired), what caused it all?—Prohibition—the depression?—or what?

"Prohibition," he answered unbadly. "It just shows what a bad law will do. Nevertheless he fought liquor racketeering like a wildcat. Just now as a public official, he's out as a public official."

Dry Regime's Aftermath

The national dry regime being ended now, its effects are only an aftermath.

Perhaps we're recovering.

But possibly, as indicated by Senator Frazier's and Representative Guyer's activities we're due for another move in the old direction.

I wouldn't think there was much prospect of their move's success on a federal scale. Still, one might have said the same thing when the dries put across their initial program, as per the 18th Amendment. The Sheppards and surviving Volsteads and others won't do it speedily, but they're diggers.

The Distilled Spirits Institute is worried anyhow.

It issues bushels of publicity to prove (so it says) how prohibition fished.

It's a funny thing that Dr. J. M. Doran is the foremost of the Distilled Spirits Institute's spokesmen. Because, Dr. Doran was the chief dry enforcement officer in the prohibition era.

At this juncture, he's the chief anti-prohibitionist.

And Gracie Tunney—ex-heavyweight scrapper! He's a Congressional witness on the liquor subject. What, in heaven's name, does he know about it?

All this is the national alcohol issue, via the District of Columbia. Gosh help the District of Columbia.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

BIRMINGHAM, Eng.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain declares his government cannot trust the pledges of Chancellor Hitler. "It is so early to discover good reasons for ignoring assurances, so solemnly and repeatedly given, what reliance can we place upon any other assurance that come from the same source?"

WASHINGTON—Sumner Welles, as acting secretary of state, voices American anger at "temporary extinguishment" of Czech-Slovakian liberties. "It is manifest that facts of wanton lawlessness and of arbitrary force are threatening world peace and the very structure of modern civilization."

SIGHET, Rumania—Augustin Volosin, nominal premier of Rumania, charges the Reich with inconsistency. "The Germans betrayed us. They acted against their own national principle."

PARIS—Premier Edouard Daladier demands dictatorial powers to deal with the European crisis. "I want France to become an immense workshop."

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Many times in the past, explorers have found "the happy valley of Rasmussen, where nobody survives." The idyllic valley in British Guiana, where nobody hales, is something else again. Its discoverer, Dr. Paul A. Zahl of Union college, understandably truces off some sizeable headlines.

A new aboriginal human society to which the curse of Cain has not penetrated, where nobody's hand is raised against his brother, where the emotion of an anger is unknown—that's news particularly in a day when the nations are putting on night shifts to keep up with their hating.

Not only is this the land of brotherly love, but the land of perfect happiness, according to Dr. Zahl. Apparently it is also a land without fear as the natives were friendly and hospitable and not in the least disturbed by the arrival of visitors from another world. Dr. Zahl contrasted these aboriginals with others who have long been in contact with white men. The inference from his report is no compliment to our civilization.

In their high mountain gorge, these happy and amiable dwellers on the Ullis river have natural protection above and below in some of the greatest waterfalls on earth, two of them with ten times the drop of Niagara, and with a tremendous volume of water. The people are perhaps unique in this planetary life-laboratory because of the isolation which has made them secure against attack and because of the fertility of their country, which has freed them from the fear of want.

If later research—indeed, such inquiry will be made—finds that this attainment of complete felicity is assured and permanent, it will be something for anthropologists to write home about. It will be a score for old Jean Jacques Rousseau who, in his "Social Contract," assumed the innate fondness and decency of man. It will also be a score for melloists, reformers and Utopians who have maintained that the mass of mankind would be essentially wise and virtuous if it could get rid of its exploiters and oppressors.

Among modern men efforts to demonstrate this theory have been disappointing. The world is littered with the wrecks of Messianic colonies which derived their inspiration from Rousseau's assumption of human beatitude. Hated, envied, over-crowded, and fear have kept in. The only ones which have thrived have been those with a "urged amalgam of religion, like the Latter Day Saints.

There seems to be no doubt but that it is standard equipment in the human species. But rarely does it serve modern man. It seems to me that research in Dr. Zahl's valley will be enlightening. Did fear and anger atrophy among these people because they were of no daily use? Then why do we modern men cling to these vestigial traits? Perish the thought, but if we could trade places with the doctor's Indians, would we be as bored as they would be frightened?

The mechanic gets $60 a week and the white-collar worker $30. You see, the white-collar pleases pride, and it's worth $30 a week to feel superior.

AND NOW PENSIONS FOR CONGRESSMEN

PENSIONS for retired congressmen are proposed. By whom? By the taxpayers? No, the idea seems to have originated in a large white building with a dome, on Capitol Hill. The theory is that a man who has helped to make his country's laws for a quarter century or so, at $10,000 a year, 20 cents a mile for traveling whether he journeys or not, free postage, a liberal allowance for clerk hire and other perquisites, with the opportunity to make speeches and write articles for pay, is entitled to support in his declining years.

A similar proposal has just found favor with the British House of Commons, whose members' salaries are the equivalent to $2900, but with the saving provision that it imposes no burden on the taxpayers. The members will contribute $5 a month each to a common fund.

One plan being considered in Washington is for contributory payments by congressmen, the remainder to be taken from the public funds. There are $10,000-men in private life, and some getting even less, who are providing for their old age by endowment insurance or saving enough money for annuities. Many members of the house may be dependent on their salaries, but it doesn't follow that they have to spend all they get. They are so constantly appropriating billions that perhaps $10,000 looks like small change.

BIG TREES ON NEW YORK STREET

An unusual tree-planting enterprise is that of Rockefeller Center, Inc., New York. It is setting out, along its Fifth avenue frontage, eight large elm trees, each about forty-five years old.

The first tree, a fifteen-ton elm with roots in a flattened ball twelve feet in diameter and four feet thick, required three hours to plant. The roots were set into a pit fourteen feet square and four feet deep, lined with a mixture of top soil and fertilizer.

Part of the pit will be sealed with reinforced concrete, but a generous area will be left bare around the trunk to permit air and water to reach the roots. White gravel will be spread over this, and a fine grating will be laid above it as protection.

This sort of tree-planting is expensive. Great care and special attention are required to enable the tree to survive the shock of transplanting, adapt itself to its new environment and win its fight against adverse conditions provided by unnatural urban surroundings. That the task is undertaken, in spite of difficulties, is eloquent proof of our awakening appreciation of the value of such trees on our city streets.

AMERICA'S ROLE IN EUROPEAN SITUATION

Men of democratic spirit and outlook are naturally disheartened over current developments in Central Europe. The ruthless manner in which Czechoslovakia has been wiped off the map and the high-handed seizure of territory by Nazi Germany in virtual contravention of the Munich pact have already aroused doubts and misgivings, not to say actual bitterness and hostility.

However, America's proper role will continue to be that of keeping her hands off European affairs. Not until this country's interests are directly affected by the onward march of totalitarianism will an attitude of open resistance or opposition be at all justifiable.

Eventually it may be necessary, in the interest of free government, to check the dictators. Great Britain and France are increasing their armaments with this possibility in mind.

But meanwhile the official spokesmen of the American people should make certain that nothing is said or done which might tend to engender dangerous international friction or minimize the negative force of strict neutrality. Up to the present, at least, the European turmoil has not been of immediate concern to the United States. Our policy, therefore, should be that of staying home, keeping quiet and minding our own business.

SIZING UP THE LAW-MAKERS

Clarifying without finally settling a provocative question, Life Magazine has polled 53 leading Washington correspondents on the integrity, intelligence, industry and influence of members of congress. Certainly these four "is" are major qualifications, and without doubt the newspaper writers in the capital are in prime position to appraise the law-makers.

The senators who led in averaging these four points were, in order named: Norris, Borah, Wagner, Byrnes, Harrison, Glass, McNary, La Follette, Vandenberg and Wheeler. The representatives leading the poll on all four qualities averaged were: Martin, Sumners, Rayburn, Bankhead, Woodrum, Wadsworth, Warren, Mapes, Doughton and Barton.

Carter Glass led Senator Norris in integrity and intelligence, but trailed him in industry and influence. Representative Sumners of Texas led his house in integrity, but trailed Wadsworth in intelligence. Martin in industry and Rayburn in influence. If integrity remains the fundamental requirement of our law-makers, it would seem that Senator Glass and Mr. Sumners lead.

It was decidedly in order to query the leaders in both houses as to "the most urgent problem facing the nation today." Naturally, they unanimously answered "Recovery." Practically every one explained that financial recovery initiated by the government itself was the specific solution. Thus did they demonstrate both integrity and intelligence. Now if these 20 only had enough influence and were to put it to work with industry for governmental fiscal reform this poll would prove something more than it does.

Yes, great fortunes were founded by men who bought real estate; but they didn't buy it from a high-pressure salesman.

If after-dinner speeches seem silly, and the thought of making one terrifies him, no one had to "speak a piece" on Friday afternoons.

A distraught parents wants a cure for a five-year-old boy who chews with the mouth open. An occasional chocolate-dipped cherry will stop this.

HINTS ON ETIQUETTE

Few things are more annoying than to have some one call you on the telephone and "kid" along with-out telling you who they are. If you are one who makes a habit of doing this stop it, as it is definitely poor taste if not bad manners.

WORDS OF WISDOM

Poverty is uncomfortable as I can testify, but nine times out of ten the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be tossed overboard and compelled to sink or swim for himself.—Garfield.

Employment Upswing Seen In Pennsylvania

By ARTHUR C. WIMMER (Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20—The employment upswing last month was far greater in Pennsylvania than the country at large according to figures released today by Secretary of Labor Perkins.

Miss Perkins reported that during February the United States Employment Service got jobs for 5417 persons in private employment in Pennsylvania. This represented an increase of 24 per cent over January placements. In the country as a whole, on the other hand, placements in private industry gained only 6 per cent.

The percentage increase was greater in Pennsylvania than all states save Nebraska, South Carolina, Arkansas and Louisiana.

At the end of February, the Employment Service had on file applications by 951,242 job-seekers in the Keystone state.

Food was bootlegged in Soviet Russia during the famine of 1929-30 when the government forbade peasants to sell food in the cities.

The Morris chair received the name from its inventor William Morris (1834-96), the well known English poet, writer and craftsman.

Ukrainians Are Shocked By Capture Of Carpatho-Ukraine

Probably no one in New Castle has watched the historical events of the past few days in Europe with as great an interest as the Rev. Nicholas Urbanovich, pastor of the Holy Trinity Ukrainian Orthodox church on the East Side.

Rev. Urbanovich, a graduate of the University of Prague, center of learning in the now non-existent Czechoslovakia, was like all Ukrainians the world over, shocked by the sudden and unexpected downfall of the autonomous state of Carpatho-Ukraine, now in control of Hungarian troops.

While studying history and philosophy at Prague, the local clergyman passed most of his vacations in the Carpatho-Ukraine, a beautiful resort country amidst the Carpathian mountains. This province, which won autonomy at the time of the Munich conference last fall, was the home of 45,000,000 Ukrainians in Europe and America who have been without a country since the fall of the Ukrainian Republic in 1920. They believed that this embryo state of Carpatho-Ukraine would be the beginning of the restoration of a vast and independent Ukraine stretching from the Caucasus across Europe to the old boundaries of Rumania, Hungary and Poland.

Such was the dream of the Ukrainians, all citizens of other nations but all bound together in a spirit of Ukrainian Nationalism. The invasion of the Carpatho-Ukraine by Hungarian troops and the flight of the popular Augustin Voloshyn, premier, to Rumania, is a blow to these people, but they have had disappointments before and have emerged undaunted. Rev. Urbanovich said today in an interview with a News correspondent.

Small Country
Carpatho-Ukraine is a small country, Rev. Urbanovich explained, no bigger than Connecticut and with a population of just 500,000. But it had become the symbol of Ukrainian aspirations for independence, and was the center of the liberation movement. This section, once a part of the ancient Ukrainian kingdom ruled by princes of the Kiev dynasty, was taken by the Austria-Hungary Empire previous to the World War. After the war it joined freely with Czechoslovakia upon the promise of autonomy which was never fulfilled until the Munich dismemberment. Last November in Vienna, Count Ciano of Italy and Ribbentrop of Germany acknowledged it as an autonomous country. When the Diet met last January, the name Carpatho-Ukraine was chosen. The section is referred to incorrectly as Ruthenia, the local priest stated, principally by those countries who have large Ukrainian populations and who fear any movements of independence.

Fought In Revolution
In the violent days of the Ukrainian revolution, when Ukrainian nationalism led the people to fight against impossible odds in an attempt to regain their freedom, Rev. Urbanovich, who had served throughout the World War as a captain in the Austrian Hussars, went to the Ukraine to fight for his people against the Bolsheviks. He was captured but escaped at Odessa aboard a British ship and a few months later enrolled as a student in the University of Prague.

Like all Ukrainians, he rejoiced in the proclamation of Ukrainian independence in the Third Universal of November 20, 1917, in the proclamation of sovereignty and complete separation from Bolshevik Russia in the Fourth Universal of January 22, and in the union of all Ukrainian territories on January 22, 1919, when the Ukrainian National Republic was established. The Republic fell in 1920 but the people have struggled ceaselessly to regain their freedom. When little Carpatho-Ukraine won autonomy, it became the new hope of the Ukrainians, and with its fall last week, this hope was crushed.

Spokane Press Quits Publication

SPOKANE, Wash., March 20.—Herbert Kretschman, editor of the Spokane Press, a Scripps League newspaper, announced Saturday the Press would be suspended permanently at the end of business today because of adverse business conditions.

The Press had been in continuous operation 37 years.

The announcement, carried in the Press, today said:

"With this issue the Spokane Press announces permanent suspension of publication. Today's issue will conclude 37 years of publishing a daily paper in the city of Spokane. It is with regret that we make this decision, but prevailing costs of operation over which we have no control, in addition to the burden of taxation, makes it impossible to operate without facing continued heavy losses."

To quickly relieve distress—rub soothing, warming Musterole on your chest, throat and back.

Musterole is NOT "just a salve." It's a "counter-irritant" containing good old-fashioned remedies for distress of colds—oil of mustard, menthol, camphor and other helpful ingredients.

That's why it gets such fine results—better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Musterole penetrates the surface skin, stimulates, warms and soothes and quickly helps to relieve local congestion and pain. Used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. ## TELEVISION EXPERT SAYS:

"It's Refreshing to Let up—Light up a mild, good-tasting Camel"

READY? A television broadcast is about to begin. Everyone feels the excitement. Philco engineer Richard E. Waggener knows exactly what to do. He passes Camels, takes one himself... a mild, good-tasting Camel. "It's grand for one's poise to let up and light up a Camel."

RECEIVING with a home set: Mrs. Dorothy Temple, who runs a home, has a job too. She is enjoying a cigarette—a Camel—for, like so many women, she finds a delicate fragrance in Camels that is very appealing. "Camels taste so good," she says. "They do have a wonderful mildness."

THE SMILE OF ANTICIPATION: Dick finds a moment to enjoy a Camel. "Camels are different," he says, "mild, full-flavored. I smoke all I want, and they never jangle my nerves."

250 WORDS PER MINUTE! Harry L. White can take down legal testimony up to 250 words per minute, for he is an expert court reporter. "After catching questions and answers on the fly, hour after hour, believe me, it feels good to let up—light up a Camel. 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!'" Camels have the rich, ripe flavor of finer, milder tobaccos. You'll find those choice tobaccos do make a difference!

Last Of Turnpike Grading Contracts Will Be Let In June

Chairman Jones Announces
Progress Is Being Made On
All-Weather Route

HARRISBURG, March 20.—All contracts for preparation of the roadbed of the Pennsylvania Turnpike for laying of surface are expected to be awarded before the end of June, Chairman Walter A. Jones said today.

Jones said seven contracts totaling $2,577,348 have been awarded to date. These contracts call for grading and drainage and erection of bridges and culverts on a total of 35.42 miles of the 190-mile superhighway the Turnpike Commission is building through Pennsylvania's mountain country between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh.

Bids have been advertised for similar operations on an additional 15.93 miles with contracts scheduled to be let this month. Engineering plans for several other sections are nearing completion and probably will be advertised within two weeks, Chief Engineer Samuel W. Marshall disclosed.

Proposals for completing excavation of Laurel Hill and Siding Hill tunnels, first two of the eight to be used by the highway, also will be asked this month. The Turnpike Commission indicated in recent statements appearing in newspapers last week.

The first grading and drainage contract, covering a 9.5 mile stretch in Cumberland county, will be completed, with favorable weather, by the end of May. Work on this section was started last November.

Oesterling Has Novel Industry

Manufacturing Novelties For Easter Season Out Or Hard Boiled Eggs

At his home on West Washington street, H. M. (Sonny) Oesterling and three assistants, have a small, interesting industry. It is the making of novelties for the Easter season. Already, about 2000 novelties have been made. They consist of face figures of 41 different comic and popular characters; using a hard boiled egg as a base for each subject. They include Pop Eye, witch, Jiggs, Charley McCarthy, Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Ferdinand, and others.

Mr. Oesterling makes all the features of the "faces" on the eggs, by free hand, and they look quite ingenious. The assistants affix the hats, collars, etc., to complete the figure.

In the making of one of these novelties, it takes from six to ten operations. Fixing up "Charlie McCarthy" drawing is the gluing on of the ears, drawing the basic features, attaching collar, painting lips, eyes, cheeks and hair, of different colors, putting on the monocle cord, and hat.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 20.—The objections raised by Sen. John S. Rice, Adams county Democrat to the dismissal of the Adams County Board of Public Assistance may cause Gov. Arthur H. James trouble if other Democratic senators raise objections similar to those of Senator Rice. The former president pro tem of the senate said he would refuse to vote for confirmation of Governor James' new appointments to the Adams county board.

Under senatorial procedure, it is customary for senators of the same party to accede to the wishes of the senator from whose district the appointments are made. If he objects to their confirmation, he is usually upheld by his colleagues. As the Republicans do not have the two-thirds vote needed for confirmation, it would appear that the Adams county appointments will not be confirmed unless Senator Rice changes his mind.

Adams objected to the removal of the Adams county board as being "unwarranted." "I can see no reason," he said, "why a board that has been handling this relief business on a non-political and efficient basis should be removed."

ceedings in the state senate, Sen. C. Hale Sipe, Butler-Armstrong Democrat, rose in his seat to make a correction for the journal which records the chamber's proceedings.

Sipe complained that he was cited as having stated during a laudatory speech on George Washington that "Washington rose from the dead." "In my community I have a good reputation for sobriety," said Sipe as he made the correction.

The same senator, during another of his attacks on Governor James for recommending that the newly-constructed Butler sanatorium be kept closed for economy reasons for the next two years, commenting that business interests in Butler were disturbed by the James pronouncement, said: "I hear that the Butler Water company is greatly disturbed."

His voice suddenly caught here and he quickly reached down and grasped a glass of water. The chamber rocked with laughter. "And I drink to their health," equably concluded Sipe.

Schuylkill county teachers have taken their problem of unpaid salaries directly to the governor. A delegation laid before him their plight in pointing out they have gone unpaid for months, some of them for over a year. The Tube Mill employee says before taking this splendid Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine and getting relief from constipation, that most everything upset his stomach.

"Truly, I wouldn't take anything for the relief that Vendol has brought me," said Mr. Harry Greaves who lives on route 1, Beaver Falls, Pa.
"I allowed myself to become constipated and this condition lay at the bottom of all my troubles. Got to where most everything I ate would turn sour, acid risings, burned my throat, and I had such severe cramps from the gas in my stomach, that I would have to double up until they wore off.
"Seemed as though I always had a bad taste in my mouth, my breath was unpleasant, and every morning when it was time to get up, I just felt so tired I hated to go to work.
"Vendol had been so highly recommended to me for these same troubles that I got a bottle, along with the little Vendol laxative tablets, and this proved to be the wisest thing I ever did. Gratifying relief from constipation was the first thing I noticed, then no meal was too big or hearty for me to eat and I enjoyed without a moment's distress

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

FOOD PROVIDES STIMULUS FOR CHILD'S REGULARITY

One of the bugaboo mothers seem to fear is constipation in their children. I am continually getting letters from them asking what to give when a child is constipated. My advice to them all is first try all other methods of keeping bowels regular. If the natural methods fail then call your doctor. Let him prescribe what is best.

The usual cause of constipation is insufficient muscular action in the bowel. These muscles are supposed to move the residue along as it is being digested. Sometimes these muscles get sluggish, lose their muscular tone and fail to function properly. Sometimes, of course, the person's diet is wrong, causing constipation.

Some children—adults, too—are fortunate in having intestinal tracts which are active and very easy to stimulate to what doctors call peristalsis. That only means that the waste material passes through them readily and is expelled without effort or pain. Others, less fortunate, have lazy bowels—muscles that are failing to do their work, and the food lies there much longer than it should.

You can take two children of the same age and give them exactly the same diet. One will have four or five movements a day, while the other will have a single difficult movement. Occasionally this is due to some abnormality in the bowel. Perhaps it is exceptionally long bowel, or one that is fastened in the body in such a way that it sags in some places or other to form a kink. In either case what we term a lazy bowel is the result, and constipation ensues.

Children who have had rickets or who are anemic are usually an easy mark for constipation. This is because their muscular tone isn't what it should be. Children whose thyroid glands aren't working the way they should are also apt to have constipation.

In all children the natural stimulus for the movements of the bowel is food. So if you don't give a child enough of the right kinds of food, then bowel movements will probably suffer. Of course there are foods which can be so completely digested that there isn't anything left for the bowel to act on. Sugars are an example of this sort of food. They are completely digested and absorbed and leave nothing behind. Starches may not be completely digested in infants, leaving a soft residue that is readily passed on. Preridge is another article of diet which aids in bowel movements because it leaves a soft residue that the bowel disposes of without difficulty.

Generally speaking, children whose diet contains a lot of proteins and not enough carbohydrates—sugars and starches—are liable to be constipated.

E. & A. Places High For Safety In '38, Report Today Shows

The Pennsylvania railroad—including the local Erie & Ashtabula divisions—recorded substantial advances in safety in 1938. President M. W. Clement revealed today when he announced winners of the road's 13th annual safety contest.

Logansport division turned out the best record of all Class C divisions in the station department section of the contest. However, the E. & A. and Monongahela also reported no accidents.

The entire system showed only 5.88 accidents per million man-hours as compared to 6.84 in 1937. The Western region, with headquarters in Chicago, earned the best record of the three major operating regions. The Southwestern division was the winner among the general divisions, the operating units next in size to the regions.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Spring is here—the roads are full of hitch-hikers.

Are you a hitch-hiker picker-up?

Motorists brag they have never been robbed by hitch-hikers.

That's like saying "I've never had pneumonia."

There's always the chance that you'll be next.

Highway thumb-bumps do not have a savory reputation.

A large proportion of them are diseased and dirty.

You may be aiding a criminal to escape detection.

You may be looking into a gun before many miles.

Consider the dangers before picking up a road bum.

Then drive on to your destination, safe and sanitary.

You will be sure to have no regrets.

Highway Death Toll Still Drops

January Shows Further
Drop Over Preceding
Year In Records

OTHER STATES HAVE RECORDS

HARRISBURG, March 20.—Pennsylvania's highway safety program has ushered in the first month of 1939 with a reduction of 35.5% in the death rate. Deputy Secretary of Revenue Otto F. Messner announced today. Fifty-three fewer persons were killed.

There are the official figures as on March 8, Messner said, explaining that it is a custom of the department not to release official figures for motor vehicle death, injury and accident statistics until the expiration of about 40 days following the close of the month at issue.

In the January showing Pennsylvania ranks well up in the list of states, and first among the largest states whose population figures are comparable to those of this commonwealth.

The reduction of 35.5% of the death rate is reflected in the figures for the month of January, which show 105 persons killed as against 158 persons killed during January of 1938. The reduced death rate from automobile accidents has shown a steady decrease since 1937. In that year 193 persons were killed during January.

Among other states listed by the National Safety Council as showing a reduced death rate are: Minnesota with a 37% reduction or a saving of 14 lives; New Hampshire with a 73% reduction or a saving of eight lives; North Dakota with an 83% reduction or a saving of five lives; Wyoming with an 89% reduction or a saving of eight lives.

Rhode Island, which last year, in spite of the population difference, was the only state in the Union whose percentage of death rates exceeded Pennsylvania, shows for the month of January this year an increase of 60% in the automobile death rate, or eight persons killed as against five in January of last year.

Disputes Claim Of "Oldest House"

Two Homes In Eastern Part of State Date Back To 16th Century

(International News Service)
CHESTER, Pa., March 20.—The oldest house still standing in Pennsylvania, claims Albert Cook Myers, Moylan historian is the Caleb Pusey home, built at nearby Upland in 1633.

The house is built in two sections, each containing one small room. Myers said. Lower portions of both sections are constructed of fieldstone, granite and cobble stone, patched with brick and plastered over.

Myers contradicted the traditional claim to "oldest house" held by the birthplace of John Morton, Swedish signer of the Declaration of Independence. The Morton home in Prospect Park, dates from 1654, it has been said.

Pusey was a partner of William Penn in a milling enterprise, a leading Quaker and the first historian of Pennsylvania, according to Myers.

Criminal court resumes today but will probably not last for more than two days. A few cases were not cleared from the calendar last week, due to number one being tied up all week with the murder case. Court room number two cleared off a lot of cases but the three remaining could not be reached.

All persons interested in grave-stones for graves of deceased service men are asked to make their requests early this year. Thomas C. Edmunds in the permanent registration bureau will supply all information upon request.

Three commissions as notaries public have been filed with Register and Recorder Orville Potter. They are for Quincy A. McBride, Alice Sedgwick and Michael A. Barletta.

Juts as the sun seemed to have chased Old Man Trouble away from the heels of William McGraw, the old man sneaked up again. McGraw was sentenced to 18 months in the workhouse nine months ago. Saturday he was brought back from the workhouse, paroled, and given a friendly admonition to go straight by the court.

He walked downstairs over to the sheriff's office and right into the arms of a constable who had a warrant for the same trouble that won him a trip to the workhouse, bad checks. The check in question is $15.

Here's Screen Actress With Business Ideas

By MILTON HARKER
(International News Service)

(Copyright, 1939.)

HOLLYWOOD March 20—Margaret Lindsay, one of the screen's better actresses, is a smart girl too. Come this summer, Margaret has enough annuities and other investments paid up so she could retire, if she pleased, and live with comfort with her family for the rest of her life.

Not that Margaret has any intention of retiring, but it's a pleasant feeling to have in a town where today's big roast is only a bone to chew on tomorrow.

Margaret is the girl who practiced one of Hollywood's greatest deceptions. Born in Dubuque, Ia., she always wanted to be an actress. She studied in New York, but when a job there failed to materialize she went to London where she appeared in four plays and also acquired an English accent.

Returning to New York, she found Broadway still in the doldrums as far as she was concerned. So she packed her bags again and came to Hollywood. After she had appeared in a few minor roles she heard they were casting "Cavalcade" and she set her heart on a role. One of the rules was that every player be English as it was a drama of English life and history.

With her accent, she passed herself off as an Englishwoman and won the part.

It wasn't till long after the picture was released the deception was discovered. That was seven years ago and Margaret has made many pictures since for Warner Brothers, her present being "Enemy Agent." She'll make many more, even if she is in the enviable position of being able to tell Hollywood when and where it gets off, if she should please.

Lee Tracy is arranging his affairs to participate in the San Francisco to Honolulu yacht race, starting July 4. His 62-foot schooner Adore, is being completely overhauled and Lee is trying to round up seven amateur sailors for the race.

Dick Powell wants to go if his commitments permit. It'll be two months before they get back after a stop-over at Hawaii.

Lee has completed "Fixer Dugan" for RKO and probably will make at least one more picture before the race.

"You've got to love the sea to have fun in an event like this," Lee says. "There's really a lot of hard work and you've got to be on your toes every minute, particularly if you run into bad weather."

Lee knows whereof he speaks. He sailed in the 1936 race. Buck Jones, the cowboy star, was another participant. Many Hollywood stars who own big boats are always planning to enter the race, but few of them get beyond the stage of talk.

There'll be no wives taken along on Lee's boat.

"It's no place for women," he explains.

Final Meeting Tuesday Of Lenten Bible Class

The Y. W. C. A. Lenten Bible class will have its final meeting Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. Last week the lower floor of the auditorium was nearly filled and tomorrow the balcony will be opened so that all who will, may hear Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine in this inspiring study of John's Portrait of Jesus.

Last week Mrs. McIlvaine spent much of the time on the problem of suffering. She referred to John's account of the blind man about whom Jesus' disciples asked if the man had sinned or his parents. Mrs. McIlvaine said that so often people ask "why has God sent this suffering to me?"

Mrs. McIlvaine spoke of the many people who use their suffering for good and then told of how George Matheson, a minister, when told that he was growing blind, went home and wrote the wonderful hymn, "O love that will not let me go."

All are welcome to attend this last class of the lenten season. There will be no Y. W. C. A. meetings during Holy Week in order that everyone may attend the special church services.

Seek Changes At Stamm Hill

Ellwood Seeking Elimination Of "Hazard" On Road To Zelenople

ELLWOOD CITY, March 20.—The Chamber of Commerce took immediate action on the dangerous Stamm hill, located on the Zelenople-Ellwood City road, by wiring State Highway Secretary Lamont Hughes that the citizens of this and surrounding communities demand an immediate survey by highway engineers to remedy the evils to motorists at this curve.

About six months ago the Chamber, along with civic clubs, petitioned Roy Brownmiller, secretary of highways under the last administration, but no action could be obtained.

The Bert Hazen accident on late Saturday afternoon will result in renewed efforts here until some action is taken by the State Highway Department.

District State Engineer C. R. Forbes, with offices in Indiana, Pa., will also be contacted by the Chamber in order to obtain a huge day and night sign to warn motorists a good distance ahead about the dangerous curve. This will be essential after April 1st, when due to the route 19 traffic being rerouted through Ellwood City on account of the traffic route No. 488 in Portersville being closed.

Party Honors Wanda Koach

ELLWOOD CITY, March 20.—To make the ninth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Wanda, a member one, Mrs. Victor Koach, pleasantly entertained a circle of her little friends and playmates at a gay surprise party on Saturday afternoon at her home in Wurttemberg.

A wide variety of most amusing games and contests passed the hours quickly and happily, with nice prizes going to Elsie McCaslin, Coleen Ketterer, Ruth Brown and Dorothy Weller as the winners.

To make the affair complete the 17 guests were served a dainty repast featuring colorful Easter appointments. A prettily decorated birthday cake added enjoyment to the affair. In serving the hostess was aided by her daughter, Leatrice, and her mother, Mrs. Charles Ketterer.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, March 20.—Admitted: Mrs. Sadie Hazen, Hazel Avenue; Mrs. Margaret Syling, Route 1; Mrs. Nellie Taylor, Route 1; Mrs. Galdys Myers, Zelenople, Route 1; Clarence Hoffman, Route 2; Arthur Schnella, Portersville.

Ellwood Volley Ball Team Is Eliminated

ELLWOOD CITY, March 20.—The Ellwood City high school volleyball team was entered in the W. P. I. volleyball tournament held Saturday at Pittsburgh. They reached the quarter finals where they were defeated by a team from Bradock.

In the first match, Ellwood topped Brentwood in two straight games, 15-7 and 15-5. In the first game with the score at four all, Chester Mack of Ellwood spiked a ball set up by Lasly and broke the deadlock, putting Ellwood into front for the rest of the game. Miller, Magi and Mack were best for Ellwood. The second game was a repetition of the first.

In the second match of the tournament Bradock, which had previously defeated Bentleyville, met Ellwood in the Pitt stadium. It took the Bradockians three games to eliminate Ellwood with scores of 15-8, 12-15 and 15-6. Murphy and Ottaviano came through for the Wolverines to win the second game.

Swallows Return, Thousand Watch Annual Miracle

(International News Service)

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Cal., March 20.—Again the annual miracle of St. Joseph's day had been enacted as unfaithfully as it was annually for the last 162 years and today the swallows of historic San Juan Capistrano Mission were back home.

As mysteriously as they return, the swallows disappear somewhere to the south in San Juan's day, Oct. 23. Padres at the mission have observed this arrival and departure on the days of the saints since 1777, and records disclose the schedule has never varied.

"On Saturday there was not a bird to be seen," said Father Arthur J. Hutchinson. "The first swallows arrived Sunday at 5:45 a. m. and by 7 o'clock there were thousands of them."

Today the swallows opened war on the sparrows, which every year take over their vacated nests for the winter. The sparrows might as well move, for the swallows always win.

Thousands of spectators witnessed the annual miracle.

Moran Fights Mooney, Ferrand Meets Morgan In Arena Ring Tonight

Several Fighters Formerly Were Members Of Pitt U Ring Team

SIMMS SCHEDULED TO OPPOSE GENARO

Both science and slugging will be shown at 8:30 p. m. tonight when 16 amateur athletic union boxers compete for supremacy in eight bouts in the Arena, Grove street. Among the 16, are several former members of the Pitt university boxing team, who already have displayed their ability reputations here. The first fight will begin promptly at 8:30 p. m.

The fighters range in weight from 112 pounds to 160 pounds and fans who like science will see it displayed and those who mostly appreciate heavy slugging will see that too.

The science will be displayed by Frankie Moran, a New Castle southpaw featherweight, against Buz Mooney, who was runner-up in the Diamond Belt boxing tournament recently in Pittsburgh.

The slugging will be provided by Steve Morgan, junior middleweight champion of the Pittsburgh section but who lives in Youngstown and attends Bethany College and Vic Ferrand, Pittsburgh, who beat Joe Gaynor here last summer.

Wargo Has Good Reputation

Johnny Wargo, a former Pitt U punch team member, who scored two wins last week in a Pittsburgh tourney, will oppose Charlie Arnett, a local lightweight favorite. Arnett is a veteran and should give Wargo real competition.

There has been hot rivalry between Joe Simms, who fought Oscar Wright here and Frankie Genaro, both welterweights of Youngstown, for some time. They decided to settle the question of superiority in this neutral city tonight.

Mickey Walec, also a former member of the Panthers boxing team will exchange punches with Ernie Pelai, of Monaca. Each will weigh 147 pounds. Genaro beat Andy Wertz here. It will be Walec's first appearance, locally.

Val Diago, of Pittsburgh, is reputedly one of Pittsburgh's best middleweights. He has been matched to oppose Frankie Karik, Youngstown, who made good showings last week in the Youngstown tournament.

Show To Help Baseball

Al Vancovich of Monaca and Joe Vulinick of Pittsburgh, will appear here for the first time and each will weigh 126 pounds. No doubt they will attempt to make themselves solid with fans.

The lightest boys on the card, Luke Blake, of Pittsburgh and Johnny McKee, of Youngstown, both weigh 112 pounds and being fast should put fans on edge for bouts to follow.

Tonight's fight entertainment is the first during the past several

Softball Managers To Meet Tonight

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the "Y" the first softball meeting of the year will be held with Rocco P. Viggiano conducting the meeting. All managers of teams in the City Softball league are asked to be present.

It is earnestly hoped that an eight or ten team league can be organized here this summer. In all probability the Radiators will be back to try for another championship this year, along with several other fast clubs—the Amodies, possibly a team from the Tin Mill, Croton Progressives, Cunningham A. C. East Side Merchants, Fannins and others.

Erie Academy And Homestead Play Tuesday

Western Regional Championship At Stake In Battle Set For Pitt Stadium

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 20.—Homestead and Erie Academy in the west; Lower Merion and Berwick in the east.

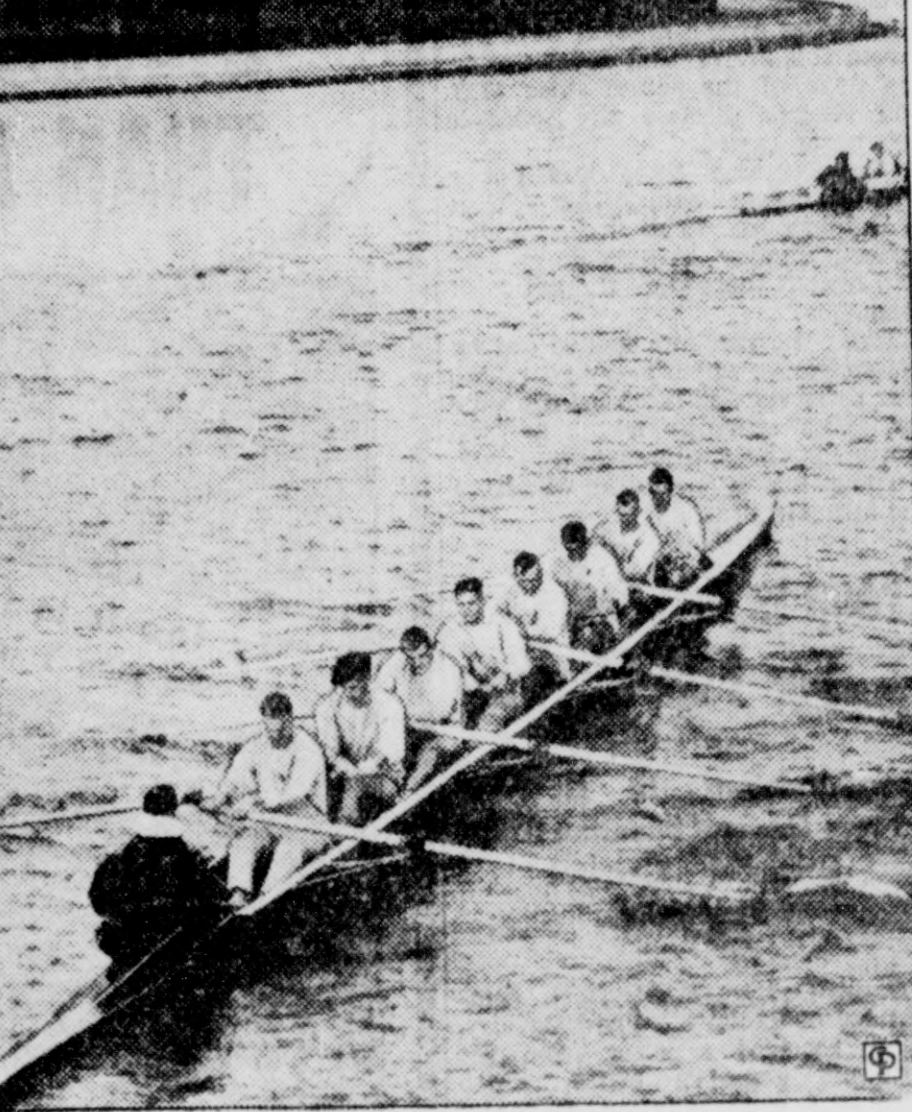

That was the lineup today as four high school basketball teams, survivors of a gruelling campaign, prepared for tomorrow night's semi-final rounds, in the annual race for the P.I.A.A. championship.

Homestead, representing District 7, had little trouble spilling Boswell, District 5 titlist, 43 to 14, at Pittsburgh Saturday to advance into the semi-finals. Erie Academy, District 10, moved into the western finals at the expense of St. Marys, District 9, 43 to 26.

Berwick, District 2, squeezed into the playoffs with a 28-27 victory over Williamsport. Lower Merion, District 1, eliminated Hazleton, last year's champion, Friday night at Hershey.

Erie Academy and Homestead will meet tomorrow night in the Pitt stadium for the western finals, while Lower Merion and Berwick will battle it out for eastern honors at the University of Pennsylvania Palestra in Philadelphia.

Navy Oarsmen Take to Water

U. S. navy crew on the Severn river

It's the first outdoor workout of the year for the Navy oarsmen, snapped in action on the Severn river at Annapolis, Md. Coach Buck Walsh had charge of the proceedings, but would make no predictions on the sailors' chances this year.

Church League Games Tonight

There will be three more games tonight in the New Castle church league at the "Y" floor, the first game to start at 7:45 o'clock. In the opening battle the Second U. P. clashes with the First Methodist team.

The second game will send the Mahoning M. E. into conflict with the Epworth M. E., the league champs. The third and final game will have the First Presbyterians meeting the Third U. P. team.

Galento Rated As First Challenger For Louis' Crown

Bob Pastor Is Rated No. 2 Challenger By Committee Of National Boxing Association

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 20.—While making it plain it neither "opponents" nor "contenders" he can defeat world's champion, Joe Louis, the rating committee of the National Boxing Association, nevertheless today again rated Tony Galento, the Orange, N. J. boxer as the No. 1 contender for the heavyweight championship in its quarterly ratings.

Joe Trainer, of Illinois, lost in an effort to have the committee leave the post No. 1 contender vacant.

Bob Pastor of New York was reinstated to No. 2 position, with the following fighters rated in the positions named: Lou Nova, Max Baer, Red Burman, Maurice Strickland, of Australia; Nathan Mann, Roscoe Toles, Johnny Paycheck and Tony Musto.

The committee said: "Something should be done about" the title vacancies in the featherweight and flyweight divisions.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Local sport stuff—Handball ranks as one of the top sports in the local Y. M. C. A. As could be expected, Henry MacNichols, activity secretary is the local champ. Robert L. Meermans, general secretary, dons up with Van Lingle Mungo, once the pride of Flat Bush. "He'll have to prove himself. Mungo's performances on the mound in the last two years have averaged about $100 an inning," says MacPhail. Johnny Rizzo, slugging member of the Pittsburgh Pirates says his ambition is to be the Joe DiMaggio of the National League. Clay Bryant staged his own baseball fight and won. After being out for two years, in his minor league days, the twirler came back winning 19 times last season for the Wrigley man.

Everything in a paragraph—There are 22 professional wrestlers who are recognized as champs somewhere. Tony Galento has turned actor. Roly-Poly will take in $2,000 for a week on the stage. Galento has a pleasing light tenor which he is not afraid to use. Charles Atlas, one of the country's foremost exponents of physical culture, usually called "the world's most perfectly-developed man," is an Italian. His real name is Charles Siciliano. Today, he is 46 years old. The Boston Red Sox have more wives in their training camp than any other big league club. Ray Carlin, pilot of Lou Nova, upcoming heavy, says Maxie Baer is all washed up. Carlin predicts a knockout or technical kazo when his protegee ties into the former night club idol.

hearing comedy acts, which he will present throughout various parks this summer. His skills will net him close to $75,000.

Charles (Ciel) Bowser, former Pitt star, reigned the No. 1 favorite for the job just a few hours before the board of trustees was scheduled to meet to select and ratify a new grid tutor.

It was believed the new mentor would be given a free hand in the selection of assistants, and that spring grid practice would get underway shortly.

Other developments in Pittsburgh's football circles over the week-end included a report and denial that William F. "Bill" Kern planned to resign at Carnegie Tech at the conclusion of the next season, and the beginning of spring practice for Duquesne gridders under direction of Aldo T. ## Two Navy Planes At Airport Here During Week End

One Airplane Forced Down
Here By Bad Weather,
Suffers Motor Trouble

While returning from Salt Lake City, a huge airplane belonging to the United States navy, ran into bad weather near here and was forced down at the New Castle airport. According to Lieutenant Visel, pilot of the ship, he was over Butler when he found it was necessary to come to earth.

Lieutenant Visel stated that the nearest airport, suitable for the navy ship, was at New Castle. Sunday morning an effort was made to leave the port here, and the plane's starter was broken.

Word of the mishap was sent to the home field at Washington, D. C., and another navy ship was immediately dispatched, carrying a new starter. Lieutenant Hurst in the plane coming from Washington, along with the aid of the local pilots, repaired the damage, and about the middle of the afternoon, Sunday, took off for Washington.

Both of the planes were navy observation ships. On the rear of each plane was a hook that is used in landing these planes on board a ship at sea. They were completely equipped with two-way radios and cameras.

While the ships were at the local airport, quite a throng of spectators gathered, the planes attracting attention from the highway. Both pilots remarked about the fine airport here, but were quite puzzled as to the absence of hangars. The planes expected to make Washington in one hour and 15 minutes from here.

Pennsy Group Here Will Attend Dinner

The Erie & Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad will send a delegation to the 14th annual dinner and get-together of the Transportation club, made up of Pennsy employees in the Central region, in the William Penn hotel, Pittsburgh, Saturday evening, March 25.

Col. Charles C. Green, vice president and director of promotion of the New York World's fair, will speak. D. K. Chase, superintendent of the Eastern division of the Pennsylvania, will be toastmaster.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties. BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep. So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders. You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

Speakers For Holy Week Services In New Castle

New Castle Ministerial Association has arranged a series of services for the community during Holy Week, April 3 to 8.

Each noonday from Monday through Thursday there will be a service in the First Baptist church at the corner of East and North streets.

On the afternoon of Good Friday, April 7, there will be simultaneous services in three different churches—Trinity Episcopal at the corner of Mill and Falls streets; First Christian on the Diamond, and Mahoning Methodist Episcopal at the corner of Cedar and Cherry streets in the Seventh Ward. Each of these Good Friday services will last three hours, from 12 o'clock noon until 3 p. m.

Many of the merchants are co-operating by allowing their clerks time off to attend the daily services; some are closing their business houses altogether for several hours on the afternoon of Good Friday.

Noonday Speakers

Speakers for the noonday services in the First Baptist church, 12:30 to 1 p. m., will be:

Monday, Rev. G. S. Bennett.
Tuesday, Rev. P. C. Pearson.
Wednesday, Rev. J. C. Rose.
Thursday, Rev. J. H. Boon.

Good Friday Speakers

Some New Castle churches are having their own Good Friday services, as have been their custom. Among these is St. Andrew's Episcopal on the South Side. The schedule of speakers for the three services sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association follows:

At the Trinity Episcopal church, Rev. P. C. Pearson will preside and give the introductory address; other speakers will be:

"The First Word"—Rev. Rees T. Williams; "The Second Word"—Rev. F. E. Stough; "The Third Word"—Rev. C. H. Heaton; "The Fourth Word"—Rev. S. E. Irvine; "The Fifth Word"—Rev. J. J. McIlvaine; "The Sixth Word"—Rev. J. G. Knippel; "The Seventh Word"—Rev. W. V. McLean.

At the First Christian church with Rev. G. S. Bennett presiding, the speakers will be: "The First Word"—Rev. J. A. Cousins; "The Second Word"—Rev. D. L. Ferguson; "The Third Word"—Rev. C. B. Winger; "The Fourth Word"—Rev. T. B. Shearer; "The Fifth Word"—Rev. A. M. Stump; "The Sixth Word"—Rev. C. T. R. Yeates; "The Seventh Word"—Rev. H. A. McCurdy.

At the Mahoning M. E. church the speakers will be: "The First Word"—Rev. D. C. Schenck; "The Second Word"—Rev. E. G. Russell; "The Third Word"—Rev. J. A. Cousins; "The Fourth Word"—Rev. M. E. Shearer; "The Fifth Word"—Rev. E. A. Shoemaker; "The Sixth Word"—Rev. T. B. Shearer; "The Seventh Word"—Rev. D. J. Blasdel.

These services are so arranged that the persons who cannot stay thru the whole three hours, may come or go at the intervals between the meditations on the different words.

The invitation is given to every one to "come aside to pray and meditate awhile on the price that was paid for our eternal salvation and the mode in which it was paid."
